OVERVIEW

Less doom. More doing. This system covers the Crooked homepage redesign concept and everything made from it: the site, posters, socials, the newsletter header, stickers and merch. It is an unofficial design exploration, not affiliated with or endorsed by Crooked Media. Show names, show art and marks belong to their owners. Every piece carries the `UnofficialMark`.

Read in this order: this page for the visual rules, Voice and tone for how it sounds, Putting it into practice for how a brief becomes a poster, a post or a product.

THE IDEA IN ONE LINE

Navy carries the brand, yellow does the work, and every piece ends with something to do: Listen. Show up. Organize. Keep that order whenever the three appear together.

COLOR

- Ground everything in `c-navy-900` (screens use `bg-inverse` for bands) or paper `bg-page`. Paper is blue-biased `c-slate-50`; never pure white for the page. White (`bg-surface`) is for cards and boxes sitting on paper.
- Use `accent-default` (yellow) for the one thing to click, the thing that's playing, focus and progress. If three things on screen are yellow, two of them are wrong.
- Use `status-live` (red 500) as a fill only: live pill, live dot, strike bars, calendar strips. For red text use `status-live-text` (red 700 light, red 300 dark).
- Put the player and nav on `bg-chrome` so tools read apart from editorial.
- Keep `con-*` sky, cream and butter inside Crooked Con placements. Two sanctioned exceptions in collateral: the climate poster sky and the "Hope is a verb" sticker.
- Pink `c-pink-300` is a collateral ground (reproductive freedom, stickers) with navy type. It never appears in product UI.
- Screen proportion: about 45 navy, 35 paper, 10 white, 7 yellow, 3 red.
- Collateral uses the `c-` primitives directly because print and social art keep fixed colors in either theme. Product UI uses semantic tokens only (`bg-`, `fg-`, `border-`, `accent-`, `status-`) so it follows light and dark.

Contrast, checked (WCAG 2.1)

PAIR	RATIO	RULE
`fg-default` on `bg-page`	15.3:1	Body and headings.
`fg-muted` on `bg-page`	5.5:1	Secondary text.

PAIR	RATIO	RULE
yellow on navy / navy on yellow	11.8:1	Display, links, CTAs, button labels.
`c-slate-300` on navy	8.6:1	Labels on navy.
navy on pink	10.1:1	Pink collateral.
cream on sky 700	4.9:1	Con headline, upper band only.
butter on sky 600	3.7:1	Display size only.
white on red 500	4.2:1	12px bold minimum in UI; display size in collateral.
red 700 on paper / on yellow	5.9:1 / 4.6:1	Red text.
butter or cream on sky 300	2.4–2.7:1	Fails. No type in the lower sky.
yellow on white	1.4:1	Never.

Focus: `focus-ring` (yellow) is 1.4:1 on white by itself, so every focus state pairs the 3px yellow outline with a 2px `fg-default` ring. Together they clear 3:1 on paper, white, navy and yellow.

TYPE

Three faces, three jobs. Never swap them.

- Big Shoulders Display 900 for headlines and big numbers: `display-xl` hero, `display-l` section, `display-m` panel, `display-s` sub-head, `display-poster` for collateral. Caps by CSS, written in sentence case so they read right in feeds and screen readers. Leading `.92` on screen, `.86` in collateral.
- Public Sans for reading: `lede` 19px, `title` 16–20px bold, `body` 16px, `body-s` 14px, `button` 15px bold.
- IBM Plex Mono 500 for metadata only: `eyebrow` 12px and `label-s` 11px, caps, tracking `f-track-label`. Show names, times, dates, counts. Tabular numerals for clocks, durations and prices.
- Nothing a person must read goes below 11px. Body copy and buttons are never in display caps. One eyebrow per block, only when it adds a fact.

LAYOUT, SPACE AND SHAPE

- The homepage reads like a rundown: today's lineup first, the player always in reach, one band for the ways to act. Order sections by what a listener does next, not by org chart.
- Max width `layout-max` (1240), gutter `layout-gutter` (16–48). Show grid 4 → 3 at 1000 → 2 at 720. Hero splits 1.25 : 1 and stacks at 860. Sections breathe `space-16` top and bottom.
- Spacing steps: `space-1` 4 through `space-16` 64. Card padding `space-6`; grid gaps `space-5`.
- `radius-pill` for every button, chip, tag and live pill. `radius-lg` (12) for art and cards, `radius-xl` (14) for lineup rows and the player, `radius-2xl` (16) for panels.
- Show art is always 1:1. Floating UI (previews, queues, checklists) gets a 2px `border-strong`.

- Depth: `shadow-card` on hovered cards over navy, `shadow-lift` for popovers and the player, `shadow-art` for fanned art and the email calendar.

MOTION

Move like a broadcast, not a slot machine. 150ms for hovers, 200ms for lifts and toggles, 500ms for slide changes, all on `cubic-bezier(.16, .8, .24, 1)`. The hero dwells 8s with a visible progress bar and a pause button. Ambient motion lives in three places only (the On Crooked drift, the Con sky, the credits roll) and pauses on hover or focus. Under `prefers-reduced-motion` all of it stops: the drift becomes a scroll row and the credits a static list. Motion has no tokens; these values are the rule.

IMAGERY, MARKS AND ICONS

- Each show's own 1:1 art, never recolored or cropped off-square. Fanned stacks rotate in 4° steps, five cards maximum. Host photography for live events, warm and candid.
- The "CROOKED" in this system is Big Shoulders set as a stand-in (`wm`: 34px, 900, tracking .02em). No official logo was supplied and none is drawn here. Production must use Crooked Media's wordmark files. Vote Save America and Friends of the Pod keep their own marks; don't rebuild them in type.
- The halo (a repeating radial ring in 13% yellow on navy) is the only decorative pattern. Collateral adds a small set of flat illustrative devices built from shapes: the sun disc, grass edge, record, calendar, checklist, scoreboard.
- Icons: the concept uses a single inline play triangle and the live dot. There is no icon set yet; when one is needed, use simple 2px-stroke glyphs in `currentColor` and add them under an Icons asset group. No emoji in brand voice; emoji appear only inside quoted chat bubbles.

TOKENS

`tokens.json` keeps the concept's three tiers and names. Primitives are `c-`, semantic tokens are `bg-`, `fg-`, `border-`, `accent-`, `status-`, `focus-ring` and `con-`, and component tokens are `button-`, `play-`, `chip-`. Components read semantic or component tokens, never primitives; collateral is the one exception, as above. Font families compile to `--font-display`, `--font-body` and `--font-mono`; `bundle.css` maps the concept's `--f-display`, `--f-body` and `--f-mono` to them so the concept's `index.html` keeps working.

Fixes this system makes to the concept:

- Red eyebrow text (3.9:1) now uses `status-live-text`.
- The 9px now-playing pill is 12px bold.
- Con type stays above the gradient midpoint.
- Preview and queue borders use `border-strong`, which flips to slate in dark mode.

- About 20 hard-coded hex values outside `:root` now have token names. In collateral, `#9AA3C0` became `c-slate-400`, `#33406B` became `c-navy-600` and `#262A35` became `c-chrome-800`.
- The "Early-bird ends Oct 6" line is past due; replace it with the current ticket tier or drop it.

VOICE AND TONE

Talk like the smartest friend in the group chat. Crooked is for people who follow politics closely, are tired of being scared by it, and want somewhere to put the energy. The voice treats them as smart, busy and already on the team. It explains, it jokes, and it always ends with something to do.

FOUR PILLARS

Action over anxiety. Name the problem in one beat, then turn to the move. Every piece leaves a door open: listen, show up, or organize.

> "The news, minus the panic." · "Down, not out." · "Doomscroll less. Doorknock more."

In on the joke. Self-aware and a little irreverent, especially about ourselves. The humor punches at the situation, never at the listener.

> "...and a few lowly podcast hosts." · "Hot takes. Yes. Twice a day, five days a week." · "Freedom & Content for All."

Plainspoken. Short words, real verbs, no insider fog. If a sentence needs a second read, it needs a rewrite. Concrete beats clever.

> "One email each weekday evening with what happened and what you can do about it."

Independent and proud of it. Membership keeps the network independent; it is never a donation plea. Confident, never pleading.

> "Your membership keeps Crooked independent and out of Big Tech's pocket." · "Ad-free. Fear-free."

TONE DIAL

Where the default voice sits on each axis (0 = left word, 100 = right word).

AXIS	SETTING	READS AS
Serious ↔ Funny	58	Slightly more funny than serious. The joke serves the point.
Casual ↔ Formal	35	Casual. Contractions always.
Urgent ↔ Calm	70	Calm. Urgency comes from a specific deadline, never from alarm.
Insider ↔ Welcoming	72	Welcoming. Explain the acronym; skip the inside baseball.
Opinionated ↔ Neutral	22	Opinionated. Say what we think and why.

FLEX BY SURFACE

SURFACE	DIAL TOWARD	EXAMPLE
Hero and section heads	Punchy, two beats, display caps	"Late-night politics. Live in LA."
Membership (Friends of the Pod)	Warm, value first, independence second	"Your favorite pods. Ad-free."
Organizing (Vote Save America)	Calm urgency, specific next step	"Find a shift, a donation match or a phone bank that fits your week."
Events (Crooked Con)	Most playful, spectacle, big stakes	"Freedom & Content for All"
Posters and socials	Two beats with a turn; the second beat is the action	"Ballot first. Brunch after." · "The polls close. We don't."
Stickers and merch	One line, wearable, gift-able, still true out of context	"Phone bank > fear bank" · "Hope is a verb"
Newsletter headers	A count plus a promise	"15 days. Every vote."
Product UI and microcopy	Quiet, literal, two or three words	"Up next" · "Saved" · "Hover a card to preview"
Commerce (Store)	Lightest touch	"A tee for the next protest or a gift for the Hysteria fan in your life."

WRITING RULES

Headlines. Two short beats split by a period, six words or fewer each. The second beat turns toward action. Write in sentence case; CSS sets the caps.

Buttons and links. Start with a verb: Play, Join, Find, Get, See, Shop. Say what happens: "Play today's lineup", not "Learn more". A pill CTA in collateral pairs the action with the program: "Find a shift · Vote Save America".

Body. One idea per sentence, under 25 words. Ledes stop at three sentences. Contractions always. Second person always.

Numbers and dates. Metadata uses abbreviated months, an en dash for ranges and a middle dot as separator: `Nov 5–7 · Washington, DC`. Never `11/5/26`. Counts in headlines are numerals: "15 days."

Errors and UI. Literal. "That didn't load. Try again." Save the jokes for editorial.

REWRITES

INSTEAD OF	WRITE	WHY
~~URGENT: Democracy is on the line. Donate now!~~	Down, not out. Find a phone bank that fits your week.	Action over anxiety. A specific ask beats an alarm.
~~Support our mission with a monthly contribution.~~	Your favorite pods. Ad-free.	Lead with what the member gets.
~~Click here to learn more about our podcasts.~~	Find your show	Verb first, no filler.
~~Stay informed with our daily newsletter.~~	The news, minus the panic	Promise a feeling, not a category.
~~Make sure you vote this November!~~	Democracy is a group project. Your part is due Nov 3.	Borrow a familiar format and give a deadline.
~~Oops! Something went wrong 😬~~	That didn't load. Try again.	UI copy stays literal.

HOUSE VOCABULARY

USE	AVOID	NOTE
Friends of the Pod; a Friend	subscriber, donor, supporter	Capital F when it means a member.
pods, shows, episodes	content, assets	"Content" only as the Crooked Con joke.
the network	the platform, the brand	Crooked is a network of shows, newsletters and events.
ad-free	premium, exclusive	Name the benefit literally.
Listen. Show up. Organize.	engage, activate	The three ways in. Keep the order.
Nov 5–7 · Washington, DC	11/5/26	En dash, middle dot, abbreviated month.

HOUSE LINES

Lines already written in this voice, cleared for reuse across pieces: Less doom. More doing. · Doom is not a strategy. · Down, not out. · The news, minus the panic. · Listen. Show up. Organize. · Hope is a verb. · Phone bank > fear bank. · Turn out, not off. · Ad-free. Fear-free. · Democracy is a group project. · Democracy is not a spectator sport. · Touch grass. Then protect it. · Ballot first. Brunch after. · Hot takes. Cool planet. · There is no planet B-side. · Everybody in. · Raise the floor. · Build it here. · Ad-free. Spin-free. · Listen like it matters. Vote like it does. · Politics, minus the doom. · Merch that shows up.

WHAT THE VOICE NEVER DOES

- Fearmonger, all-caps-shout or count down to doom.
- Mock the listener, or anyone for being new to politics.

- Plead for money. Membership is value first.
- Put words in a real person's mouth. Quotes are real, attributed and checked.
- Use emoji in brand voice. Quoted chat voices may.

PUTTING IT INTO PRACTICE

How a brief becomes a piece. The live examples are the Collateral components: `Poster`, `SocialSquare`, `EmailBanner`, `StickerSheet`, `TeeGraphic`, `MerchLine`.

FROM BRIEF TO PIECE

1. Name the action. What should the reader do after seeing this: listen to a show, show up somewhere, or organize? Pick one.
2. Write the two beats. Beat one names the situation in the reader's words. Beat two turns it into the action. Six words or fewer each. Check it against the rewrites table.
3. Choose a device. Most pieces need none: the headline is the art. Add one device only if it carries the idea (see Devices below).
4. Choose the ground. Navy by default. Yellow for upbeat asks. Paper for policy claims in a box. Pink for reproductive freedom. Red for labor. Chrome for chat and app formats. Sky for climate only.
5. Highlight one beat. On navy, the turn goes yellow. On yellow, everything is navy. Never highlight both beats.
6. Close with the CTA and the mark. Pill CTA names the action and the program. Unofficial mark in the corner.

FORMATS

FORMAT	SIZE	COMPONENT	HEADLINE SIZE	NOTES
Poster / story	1200×1800	`Poster`	196–300px	90px padding, footer row with pill + mark.
Feed square	1080×1080	`SocialSquare`	178–220px	80px padding, eyebrow / headline / footer.
Newsletter header	1200×600	`EmailBanner`	118px	Headline left, one object right.
Sticker	320–360px die-cut	`StickerSheet`	44–66px	10px white kiss-cut border.
Garment print	1400×1400 artboard	`TeeGraphic`	150px	Two inks where possible.
Product mockup	square card	`MerchLine`	n/a	Flat silhouette on `c-slate-100`, spec caption.
Wide banner	1200×400 (3:1)	`EmailBanner` layout	96px	Used for the Everybody In series header.

DEVICES

Signature moves, each tied to a piece that uses it. One per piece.

- Strike and swap. Strike the doom word with a rotated red bar, then set the replacement in yellow. Doomscroll less. Doorknock more. · Healthcare shouldn't have a ~~paywall~~.
- Borrowed format. Dress the ask as something familiar: the homework checklist (Democracy is a group project), the group chat (Your group chat, upgraded), the weather forecast (100% chance of turnout), the scoreboard (Home: Voters 26 · Away: Apathy 00), the album tracklist (Greatest Hits: Social Security, the 40-hour week, Medicare, Voting Rights Act, Clean Air Act; bonus track: your vote), the record sleeve (There is no planet B-side), the sequel poster (Democracy 2: The Sequel), the certificate (World's Most Persistent Phone Banker), the national-park sign (Visit your polling place). The format carries the joke; the copy carries the action.
- The fake small business. Name a deadpan contractor after a public project and let the trade tagline do the rest: Big Balls Demolition & Remodel, Hard Letters Signage Co., Lincoln Blue Pool & Paint, Triumphal Erection Co. Set it like real workwear (chest logo, back print, sincere tagline) and show it next to the landmark it points at.
- This or that. Two panels, the left on white and the right on navy with the yellow answer. Hot takes / Hot planet.
- The object. One flat object holding the date or number: the calendar (Nov 3), the ticket, the checklist box.
- The scene. Flat shapes only: sun disc with two soft rings, a navy grass edge, mountains for the park badge. No photos, no people.
- The seal. Dashed yellow ring around a navy ring, mono line on top, display lockup inside. Est. somewhere between doom and doing.

MERCH RULES

- One line per product, drawn from the house lines.
- Ink from the brand palette; garment colors may extend it (black, forest, natural canvas, duck tan) and stay off screens.
- Series share one idea. Everybody In: Everybody in · Raise the floor · Everybody eats · Working people first · All of us · Build it here.
- Satire aims at projects and policies, never at a named person's face or name. Every factual premise is true and dated.
- Caption mockups as PRODUCT NAME over a mono spec line: "Planet B-side bucket hat · Navy twill · yellow embroidery".

BEFORE IT SHIPS

- [ ] Two beats, six words or fewer each, second beat is the action.
- [ ] One yellow highlight, one device, one CTA.

- [ ] Type above the sky midpoint; no butter or cream on `c-sky-300`.
- [ ] Red only as fill, or at display size; red text is `c-red-700`.
- [ ] Dates as `Nov 3` / `Nov 5–7 · Washington, DC`; nothing past due.
- [ ] The unofficial mark is present and legible.
- [ ] No real person quoted or pictured without a source; no official marks rebuilt in type.

04 · NOV 2026 CAMPAIGN LAYER

MIDTERM MESSAGING

A campaign layer on top of the voice for the final stretch before the Nov 3, 2026 midterms. Same voice (action over anxiety, in on the joke), aimed at four targets. The live set is the MidtermSet component. These lines are dated: retire or rewrite them after Nov 3.

THE FOUR LANES

Every piece picks one lane, lands one joke, and ends with one action.

1. The cost of everything

The everyday bill: gas, groceries, rent, child care, tariffs. The joke is the gap between "prices are coming down" and the receipt.

- Gas is $4.20. Not a joke. (Neither is Tuesday.)
- Read the receipt. Then read the ballot.
- They called affordability a con job. Your receipt calls it Tuesday.
- "The party of affordability." Have you met a receipt?
- Your cart got smaller. Your ballot didn't.
- Fill the tank. Then fill in the bubble.
- Tax cuts at the top. Price hikes at the pump.

2. Check, please (the gold-plated White House)

The gold decor, the ballroom, the paved Rose Garden, and the Cheesecake Factory comparison that took over the week. The joke is the menu: lavish for them, nothing on it for you. Close the tab is the action.

- Check, please. (Close the tab · Vote Nov 3)
- Less Cheesecake Factory. More factories.
- Donors got a ballroom. You got the bill.
- Gold everything. Nothing on the menu for you.
- Affordability: 86'd.
- Your table's ready. Polls close at the end of the night.

3. For sale (the grift)

Self-dealing, donor favors, family business in the people's house. The joke is the swamp that got remodeled instead of drained.

- Drain the swamp? They put in a hot tub.
- Everything's for sale but your vote.

- Not a cabinet. A gift shop.
- The swamp got a renovation. You got the invoice.

4. Make it a short term (turnout)

The close. Every piece in the other three lanes can end here.

- Midterms Tuesday. Make it a short term.
- Four days. Every vote.
- Costume Saturday. Ballot Tuesday.
- The polls close. We don't.
- Democracy is a group project. Your part is due Nov 3.

ROUND 2 LINES

Built into MidtermSet (round 2 row) and rotating in HeadlineReel.

Cost of everything - Groceries cost a fortune. Voting's still free. - The price is wrong. (Price tag: "Coming down" struck, "Still up".) - Inflation isn't a vibe. It's a receipt. - Eggs are a luxury good now. Vote like it. - Tariffs: a tax with better PR. - "Prices are coming down," they said. So is our patience.

Check, please - Huge portions. Tiny priorities. - The menu's 20 pages long. None of them say "child care." - All that gold and still no plan for groceries. - Gilded Age? We've seen the sequel.

For sale - The art of the steal. (Pair it with a sourced example, like the donor-funded ballroom.) - The only thing trickling down is the bill. - Draining the swamp, one family business at a time. - Self-dealing isn't a jobs program. - Make America Grift Again. (Parodies a trademarked slogan: editorial and social only, never merch.)

Working people - Billionaires don't clip coupons. (You do. Vote like it.) - Work hard. Pay more. That's not the deal. - The middle class isn't a talking point. It's your Tuesday.

Make it a short term - Don't let the midterms be mid. - Midterms: no extensions. - Doomscrolling isn't voting. - Pick a polling place, not a fight. - Your vote is the one receipt they can't lose.

RULES FOR THIS ROUND

- Facts first, then the joke. Every number is sourced and dated in the piece's notes: the $4.20 gas figure is the AAA national average for Oct 30, 2026. When a number moves, the line moves with it.
- Quote only what was said. "The party of affordability" and "con job" are the president's own words about affordability. Attribute or set them as quotes; never invent a quote or put words in a named person's mouth.
- Punch at conduct, not people. Mock the gold, the ballroom, the receipts, the self-dealing. No name-calling, no jokes about anyone's body, family or voters.

- Grift, not crimes. Say grift, self-dealing, for sale, donor's choice. Don't call anything a crime unless a charge or conviction says so.
- The Cheesecake Factory is the punchline, not the target. The chain and its diners are fine. The joke is the decor in the White House. No logos, no menu art, no trade dress.
- Merch at the polls. Some states restrict political clothing at polling places. Never promote merch as something to wear to vote.
- Every piece ends with an action: Vote Nov 3, make a plan, bring three friends, find a shift. Polling hours and rules vary by state; never print a single nationwide opening or closing time.
- Grounds follow the system: navy for cost of living, yellow for Check, please and turnout, red for who pays, chrome for grift, paper for receipts and other borrowed formats.

COLOR PRIMITIVES

c-navy-950
`#070F2A`
Dark-mode page ground (`bg-page` in dark).

c-navy-900
`#0A1A44`
The brand's ground: header, hero, footer, ink buttons, poster and social grounds. Text on paper, white and yellow.

c-navy-800
`#0F1C45`
Dark-mode surface (`bg-surface` in dark).

c-navy-700
`#14255A`
Dark-mode raised panels on navy.

c-navy-600
`#1C2F66`
Cards and panels sitting on navy (`bg-inverse-raised`).

c-navy-500
`#24356E`
Dark-mode hairline borders.

c-navy-400
`#2C4180`
Borders on navy; the inner ring on the tee graphic.

c-navy-300
`#3A4F8F`
Reserved step; no current use.

c-slate-600
`#56618A`
Muted text on paper and white (5.5:1 on paper).

c-slate-400
`#98A3C8`
Muted text in dark mode (6.6:1 on navy 800).

c-slate-300
`#AEB8DC`
Labels and eyebrows on navy (8.6:1); struck-out words in collateral at 55% opacity.

c-slate-200
`#D4DAF0`
Soft body text on navy: hero ledes, email-banner copy.

c-slate-150
`#D5DBEA`
Hairline borders on paper and white. Decorative only (1.4:1).

c-slate-100
`#EEF1F9`
Dark-mode default text.

c-slate-50
`#F2F4F9`
Paper: the blue-biased off-white page ground. Never pure white for the page.

c-yellow-500
`#FFD43B`
Signal yellow. The one thing to click or the thing happening now; display type on navy; poster and social grounds. Never text on white (1.4:1).

c-yellow-300
`#FFE278`
Hover state of yellow fills.

c-red-300
`#FF6B6B`
Live-red text in dark mode (6.8:1 on navy 950).

c-red-500
`#E5383B`
Live red. Fills only: live dot, now-playing pill, strike bars, calendar header, the Labor social ground. White on it is 4.2:1, so text on it is 12px bold minimum or display size.

c-red-700
`#B3261E`
Red text on paper, white and yellow (5.9:1 on paper, 4.6:1 on yellow): eyebrows, alerts, checklist time labels.

c-chrome-950
`#0D0F14`
Player and tool chrome; the group-chat social ground.

c-chrome-900
`#1A1D25`
Raised chrome: hover rows in the player and nav.

c-chrome-800
`#2A2E39`
Borders on chrome.

c-chrome-500
`#6B7080`
Disabled icons on chrome.

c-chrome-400
`#9A9FAD`
Muted text on chrome (7.2:1).

c-sky-700
`#1A5EF3`
Crooked Con only: top of the sky gradient.

c-sky-600
`#2C70F3`
Crooked Con only: mid sky; the 'Hope is a verb' sticker.

c-sky-500
`#2A6FF3`
Crooked Con only: alternate mid sky from the concept CSS.

c-sky-300
`#5C97F1`
Crooked Con only: bottom of the sky. No text here (cream 2.7:1).

c-sky-200
`#4C8DEB`
Crooked Con only: cloud shading.

c-cream-100
`#FFF5D6`
Crooked Con headline type; wordmark on red and sky collateral (4.9:1 on sky 700).

c-butter-300
`#F6EC8E`
Crooked Con display type, top two-thirds of the sky only (4.4:1 on sky 700, 3.7:1 on sky 600).

c-pink-300
`#F7B6D2`
Collateral ground for reproductive-freedom pieces and stickers, with navy type (10.1:1).

c-white
`#FFFFFF`
Surfaces on paper: cards, checklists, the lock box, the calendar.

SEMANTIC AND COMPONENT COLOR

TOKEN	LIGHT	DARK	USE
`bg-page`	#F2F4F9	#070F2A	Page ground. Text: `fg-default`, `fg-muted`.

UNOFFICIAL CONCEPT

Spacing

`space-1`	`4px`	Icon-to-label gaps.
`space-2`	`8px`	Chip and button gaps; eyebrow to headline.
`space-3`	`12px`	Gaps inside rows: play button to title.
`space-4`	`16px`	Minimum side gutter; swatch grid gaps.
`space-5`	`20px`	Grid gaps between cards.
`space-6`	`24px`	Card and panel padding.
`space-7`	`28px`	Reserved.
`space-8`	`32px`	Space under a section head; Con band padding.
`space-10`	`40px`	Space above a sub-head.
`space-12`	`48px`	Large gaps inside hero bands.
`space-16`	`64px`	Section rhythm, top and bottom.

Radius

`radius-xs`	`4px`	Tiny tags.
`radius-sm`	`6px`	Code chips, contrast swatches.
`radius-md`	`10px`	Countdown tiles, notes.
`radius-lg`	`12px`	Show art and cards (`card-radius`).
`radius-xl`	`14px`	Lineup rows and the player.
`radius-2xl`	`16px`	Panels (`panel-radius`).
`radius-pill`	`999px`	Every button, chip, tag and live pill.

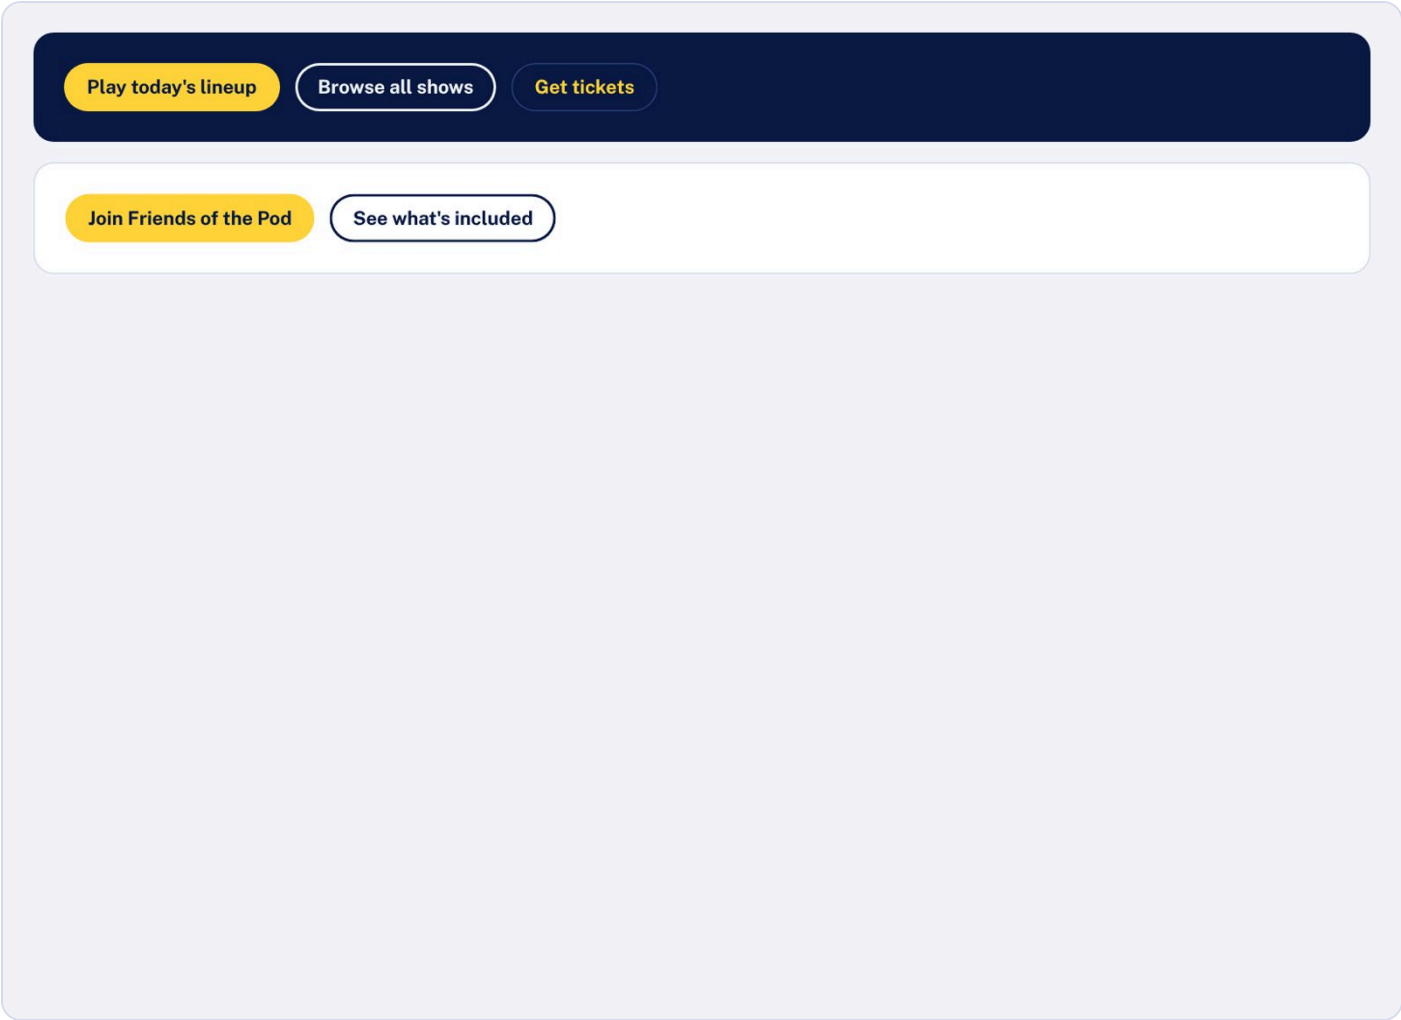

Shadow, sizes, layers

`shadow-card`	`0 18px 40px rgba(5, 10, 30, .35)`	Hovered show cards on navy.
`shadow-lift`	`0 24px 60px rgba(5, 10, 30, .5)`	Previews and queue popovers.

`shadow-art`	`0 18px 40px rgba(0, 0, 0, .4)`	Fanned show-art stacks; the email-banner calendar.
`layout-max`	`1240px`	Max content width.
`layout-gutter`	`clamp(16px, 4vw, 48px)`	Side gutter; always at least 16px.
`layout-nav-height`	`64px`	Sticky nav height.
`play-size`	`44px`	Play button; also the minimum touch target.
`play-size-compact`	`38px`	Play button inside the player bar.
`button-padding`	`10px 18px`	Button padding.
`f-size-display-xl`	`clamp(52px, 8vw, 112px)`	Hero headline.
`f-size-display-l`	`clamp(40px, 5vw, 64px)`	Section headline.
`f-size-display-m`	`clamp(34px, 3.6vw, 46px)`	Panel headline.
`f-lh-display`	`.92`	Display line height on screen. Collateral tightens to .86.
`f-track-label`	`.08em`	Mono metadata tracking.
`f-track-label-wide`	`.12em`	Countdown captions.
`z-header`	`20`	Sticky nav.
`z-dock`	`30`	Docked player.
`z-popover`	`40`	Hover previews.
`z-panel`	`41`	Queue panel.
`z-toast`	`50`	Toasts.

COMPONENTS · ACTIONS

BUTTON

Pill buttons whose label is a verb phrase that says what happens.

Provide: an `` or `<button>` with `ck-btn` plus one variant class, and a label that starts with a verb (Play, Join, Find, Get, See, Shop).

VARIANT	CLASS	USE
Primary	`ck-btn-primary`	Yellow (`button-primary-bg`) with navy label (`button-primary-fg` , 11.8:1). One per view, on navy or paper.
Ghost	`ck-btn-ghost`	Secondary action beside a primary. Inherits the text color of its band.
Ink	`ck-btn-ink`	Navy with a yellow label. Use on yellow and sky grounds where a yellow button would vanish.

- Do write "Play today's lineup", "Find a shift", "Get tickets".
- Don't write "Learn more", "Click here", or set the label in display caps.
- Don't put two primary buttons in one view. If three things are yellow, two are wrong.
- Radius is always `radius-pill` ; padding is `button-padding` ; label style is `button` .

COMPONENTS · ACTIONS

CHIP

Pill filters for the show grid.

Provide: `<button class="ck-chip">` with `aria-pressed` set; the selected state is driven by `aria-pressed="true"`.

- Filter only. Never use a chip as a link or a tag that does nothing.
- Selected: `chip-selected-bg` with `chip-selected-fg` (navy and yellow in light; slate and navy in dark).
- Labels are short nouns in sentence case: "Daily news", "Law & courts".

COMPONENTS · ACTIONS

PLAYBUTTON

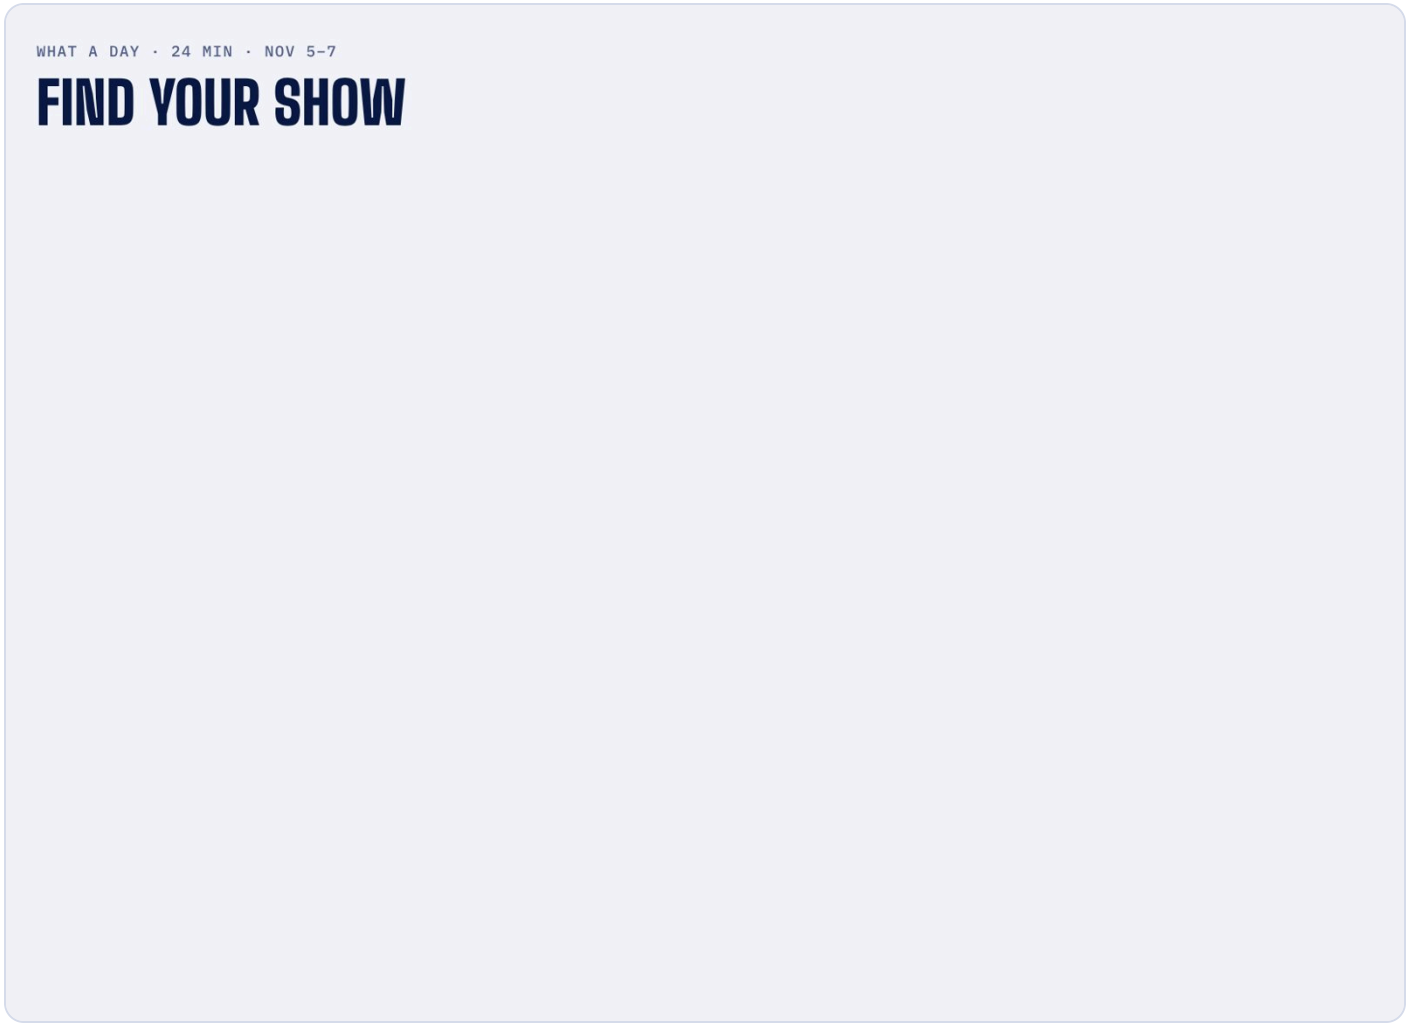

The yellow disc that starts audio.

Provide: a `<button class="ck-play">` with an `aria-label` naming the episode, and a visible title next to it. Add `compact` inside the player bar.

- Size `play-size` (44px, also the minimum touch target); `play-size-compact` (38px) only inside the player, where the whole row is the target.
- Fill `play-bg`, glyph `play-fg`.
- Never a play button without a title beside it; never a second yellow action competing in the same row.

COMPONENTS · STATUS

EYEBROW

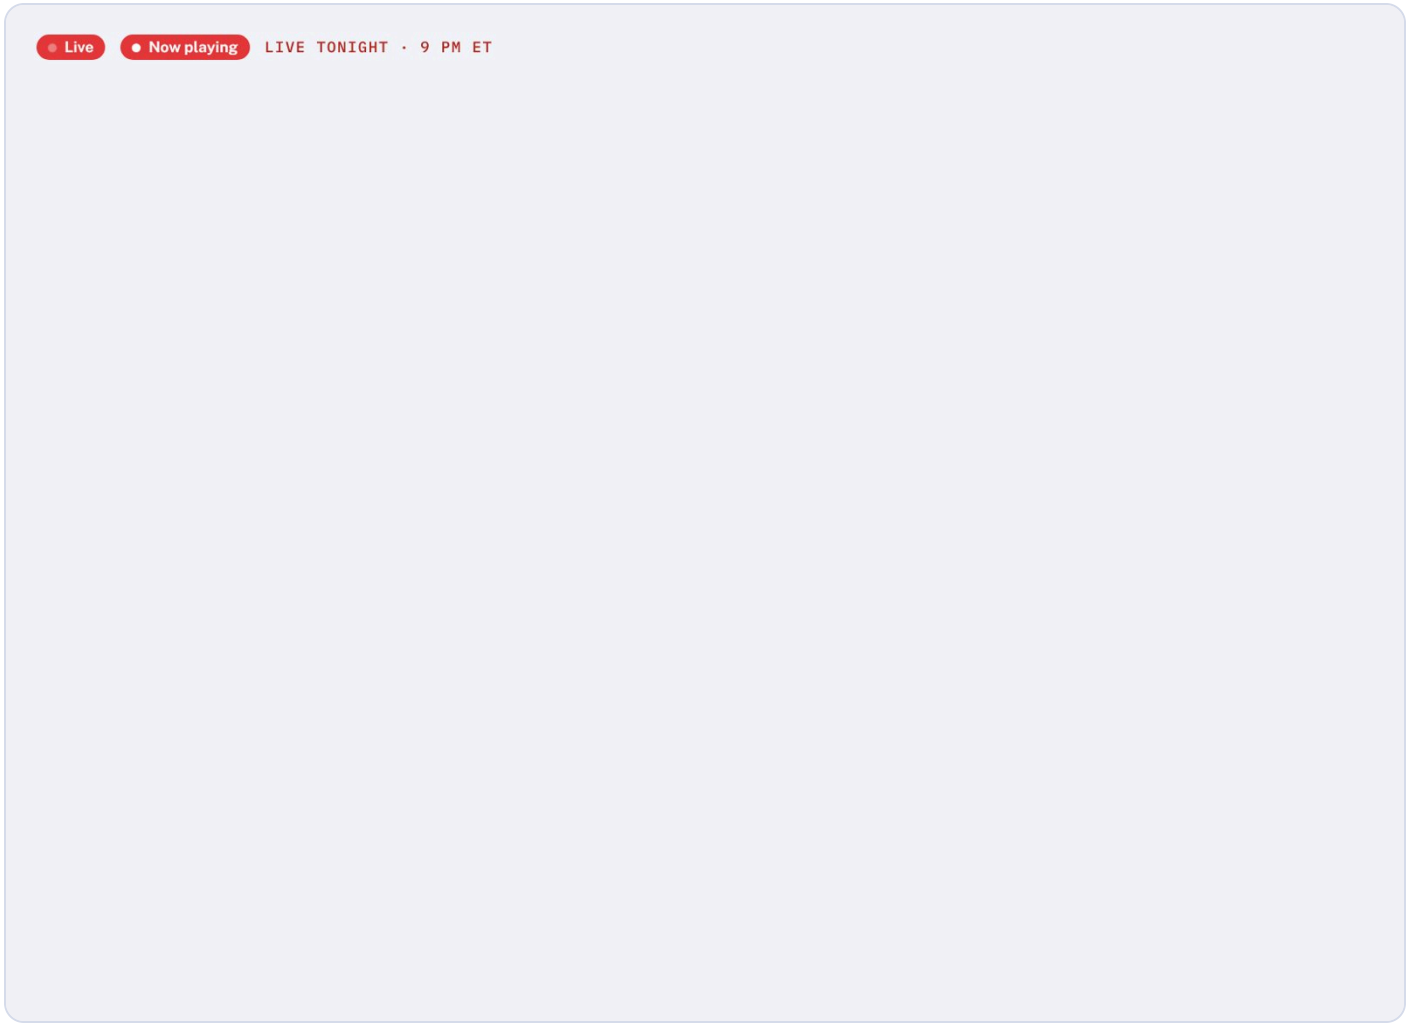

Mono caps metadata above a headline.

Provide: `` with facts only: show names, durations, dates, counts.

- Style `eyebrow`: IBM Plex Mono 500, 12px, tracking `f-track-label`, color `fg-muted` (or `fg-on-inverse-muted` on navy).
- Separate facts with a middle dot; ranges take an en dash: `Nov 5–7 · Washington, DC`.
- One eyebrow per block and only when it adds a fact. Never on every card by habit.

COMPONENTS · STATUS

LIVEPILL

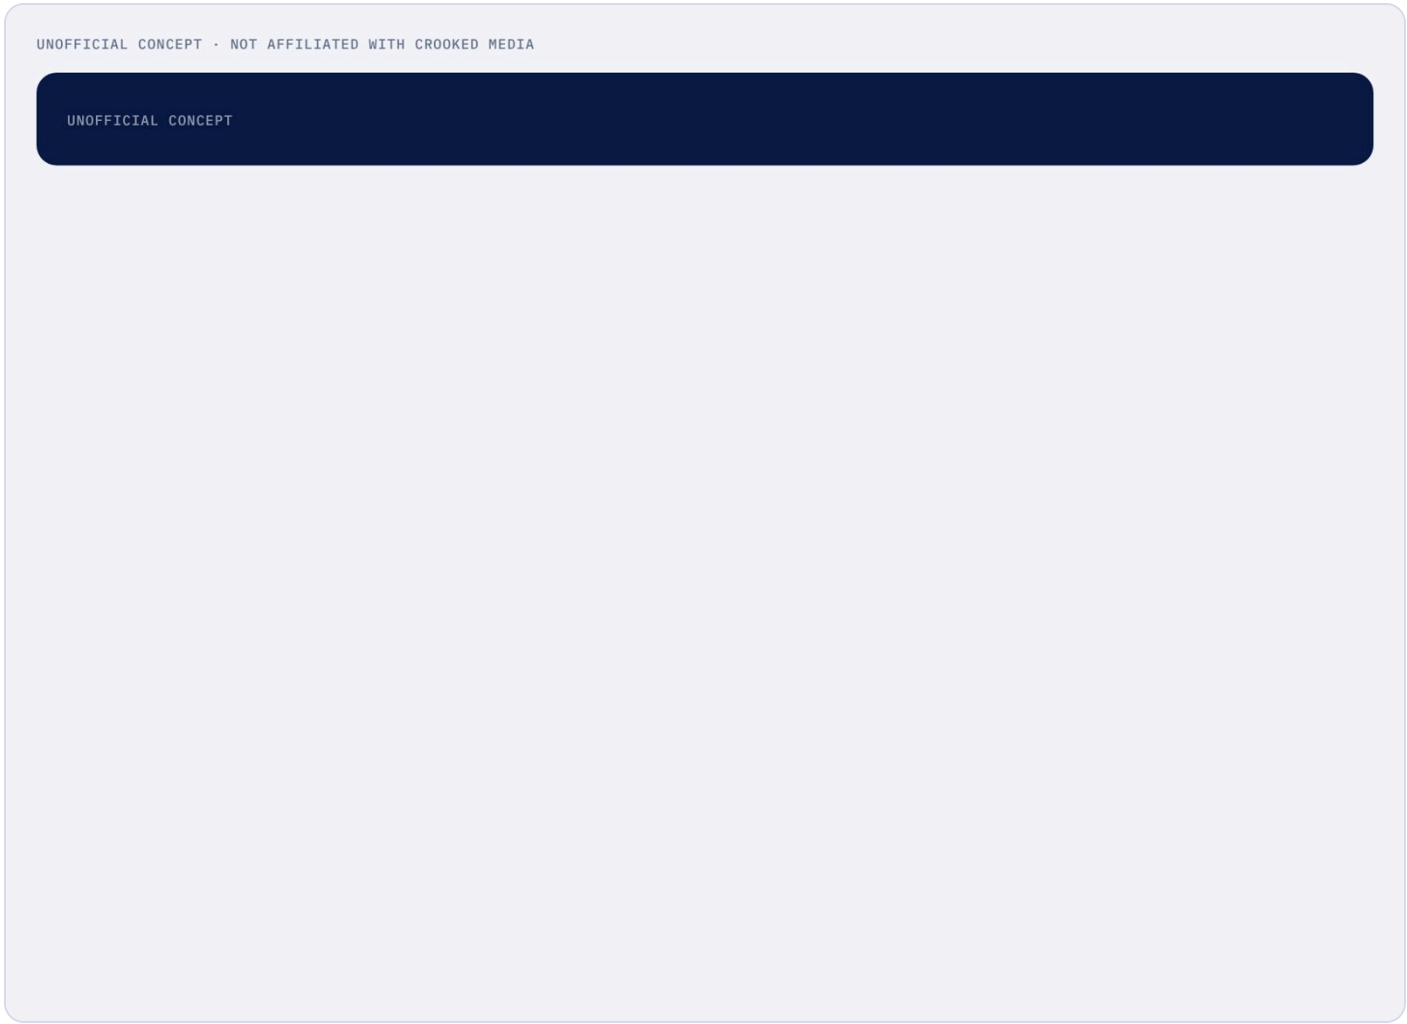

Red pill that marks audio or an event that is live right now.

Provide: `` with a one-or two-word label; add `pulse` only while audio is actually live or playing.

- Fill `status-live`, white text at 12px bold minimum (4.2:1 qualifies as large-ish UI text only at that weight). The concept's 9px pill failed; don't go smaller.
- For red text (an eyebrow, an alert) use `status-live-text`, never `status-live`.
- Pulse stops under `prefers-reduced-motion`.

COMPONENTS · STATUS

UNOFFICIALMARK

The line that keeps every piece honest about what it is.

Provide: `` placed in a corner or footer of every page, poster, social post, sticker sheet and merch mockup.

- Full form: "Unofficial concept · Not affiliated with Crooked Media". Short form on 1080^2 socials: "Unofficial concept".
- 11px Plex Mono at 55–60% opacity in the piece's own text color. Never removed, never hidden under art.
- The typeset "CROOKED" in Big Shoulders is a stand-in, not the official wordmark. Production work must use Crooked Media's own files and approval.

COMPONENTS · MEDIA

EPISODEROW

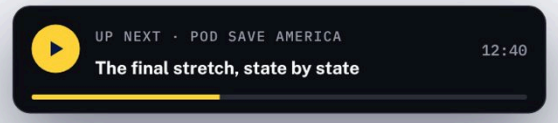

One episode in today's lineup: play, show, title, length.

Provide: show name (eyebrow), episode title (`title` style), duration in `mm:ss`, and a play button with an `aria-label`.

- Lives on `bg-inverse`; the row is `bg-inverse-raised` with `border-inverse`, radius `radius-xl`.
- Durations use tabular numerals in mono.
- Titles are the episode's real title, sentence case, no clickbait additions.

COMPONENTS · MEDIA

PLAYER

The persistent audio player.

Provide: current show, episode title, elapsed time and progress (0–100%).

- Chrome (`bg-chrome`), not navy, so it reads as a tool. Metadata `fg-on-chrome-muted`; progress fill `accent-default`.
- Floats bottom-left on desktop (`z-dock`, `shadow-lift`); docks full width under 700px.
- Microcopy stays literal: "Up next", "Saved", "Paused".

COMPONENTS · CROOKED CON

CONBAND

The Crooked Con sub-brand: daytime sky, cream and butter type, navy hardware.

Provide: dates and city (eyebrow), the event line, a countdown (days, hours, minutes), and one ink button.

- Gradient `con-sky-top` → `con-sky-mid` → `con-sky-low`, closed by a 3px `con-rule`.
- All type sits in the top two-thirds, or on navy hardware like the countdown (`con-clock-bg`, `con-clock-fg`). Butter or cream over `con-sky-low` fails (2.4–2.7:1).
- Buttons on sky are ink, never yellow.
- Sky colors never leave Con placements. Use the official event art for the eagle and clouds.
- Keep ticket copy current: the concept's "Early-bird ends Oct 6" line is past due.

COMPONENTS · MOTION

HEADLINEREEL

An animated rotator that cycles the campaign headlines, two beats at a time: the first beat in paper, the turn in yellow.

Provide: a list of headlines as `[eyebrow, first beat, second beat]`. Keep each beat to six words or fewer, and keep the brand line ("Less doom. More doing.") first.

- Pace is slow on purpose so each line lands: the current headline fades out over 650ms, the next one's first beat fades up over 1s on `cubic-bezier(.16, .8, .24, 1)`, the yellow turn follows 700ms later, and the headline holds for 6.5s. A yellow progress bar shows the hold.
- Always ship the pause button and the dots. The reel also pauses on hover and while anything inside has keyboard focus. Picking a dot pauses it on that headline.
- Under `prefers-reduced-motion` nothing moves: the reel renders as a static list of every headline.
- Navy ground (`c-navy-900`) with the halo pattern; eyebrow in `c-slate-300` mono caps; second beat `c-yellow-500`. Never more than one reel per page, and it doesn't play under the Crooked Con band.
- The live screen reader region announces the current headline; the pause button's label switches between "Pause headlines" and "Play headlines".
- Current set: Less doom. More doing. · Huge portions. Tiny priorities. · The price is wrong. · Check, please. · Don't let the midterms be mid. · Billionaires don't clip coupons. · Drain the swamp? They put in a hot tub. · Groceries cost a fortune. Voting's still free. · Midterms Tuesday. Make it a short term. Retire the midterm lines after Nov 3.

EMAILBANNER

WHAT A DAY · COUNTDOWN HEADER

Newsletter header, 1200×600 (2:1), shown at 50%.

Provide: the newsletter name and moment as the eyebrow, a two-beat count headline in yellow, one sentence that promises exactly what's inside, and a single object on the right (calendar, ticket, receipt) that carries the date or number.

- Navy ground, halo pattern bottom-right, 70px padding, 1.3 : 1 split.
- The object is white with a red header strip and `shadow-art`; its number is display type.
- Body copy `c-slate-200` at 30px. Keep it to one sentence.

- Live text in the email body must repeat the headline; never put the only copy of a date inside an image.

- Count copy expires daily. As of Oct 30, 2026 the header reads "Four days. Every vote." Update or retire it after Nov 3.

COMPONENTS · COLLATERAL

MERCHLINE

The whole merch line in one place: 38 products from Merch Round 2, the lookbook, the Everybody In hats, the Let Them Eat pair and the DC Small Business tees, sorted by product type (tees, hoodies and crewnecks, headwear, mugs, bags).

Provide: the line (a house line from the voice section), the garment and its color, the print method and ink colors, and a placement. Caption every mockup as PRODUCT NAME in display caps over a mono spec line ("Navy twill · yellow embroidery").

- Inks come from the brand palette: yellow, navy, white, cream, red 700, red 500. Garment colors may go beyond it: black `#0E1015`, forest `#1F3B2A`, natural canvas `#E8E0CC`, duck tan `#B98A4E`, stone. Those are product colors, not tokens; never use them on screen.
- One idea per product. Series share one idea across items. Everybody In: Everybody in · Raise the floor · Everybody eats · Working people first · All of us · Build it here.
- Borrowed formats carry the best pieces: the record sleeve (Planet B-side), the tracklist (Greatest Hits), the jersey number (Voter 26), the national-park badge, the certificate mug, the tour-shirt back print.
- Mockups are flat garment silhouettes on paper (`c-slate-100`) with the unofficial mark in the corner. No models, no photo comps of real people.
- Group like items together when showing the line (store page, lookbook, line sheet): all tees, then outerwear, then headwear, then drinkware, then bags. Each tile names its round so the source stays traceable.
- Let Them Eat (Nov 2026): the Marie Antoinette riff on tone-deaf leadership. A pink Let Them Eat Cheesecake tote ("Out of touch since 1789") and a navy Simply Afford It mug with a gilt rim and a receipt (1 slice cake $9.00, 1 dozen eggs $7.49, total: Sorry?). Aim it at the people in charge, never at a named person; the design canvas is the Let Them Eat Merch artifact.
- DC Small Business (Nov 2026): four fake contractor brands, each named for a Washington landmark project. Big Balls Demolition & Remodel (the East Wing, "Tear it down. Build it better."), Hard Letters Signage Co. (the Kennedy Center facade, "Banners · Signs · Wraps"), Lincoln Blue Pool & Paint (the Reflecting Pool, "Keep it blue.") and Triumphal Erection Co. (the arch and the regilded bridge horses, "Raise the standard.").
- Play it straight. The workwear edition is the product: a left-chest logo, a clean back print, one or two inks, a sincere trade tagline. The joke is only the company name, so it reads as a real company shirt until the second look.
- Show each shirt beside its landmark. Presentations pair the front and back with a flat illustration of the place it references, so the joke lands before anyone reads the name. No photos.
- The cartoon novelty edition (mascots, ribbons, innuendo service lines) is a limited drop, not the line.
- Aim at the projects, never at a named person: no names, faces or likenesses. Keep every factual premise true (dates in the presentation captions are checked).
- Print notes: Triumphal gold is metallic ink, not a flat yellow. Hi-vis yellow and safety orange are workwear blanks; check the vendor's exact shade.
- Source images: asset groups Merch Round 2, Merch Lookbook, Everybody In Hats, Let Them Eat and DC Small Business, rendered from the merch PDFs. The Everybody In 3:1 series banner is in Everybody In Hats for store and email headers.

MIDTERMSET

The Nov 2026 midterm push: one menu poster and six feed squares across the four lanes in Midterm messaging.

Provide: a lane, one line from that lane, a ground from the system, and a footer action that names Nov 3 or a concrete next step.

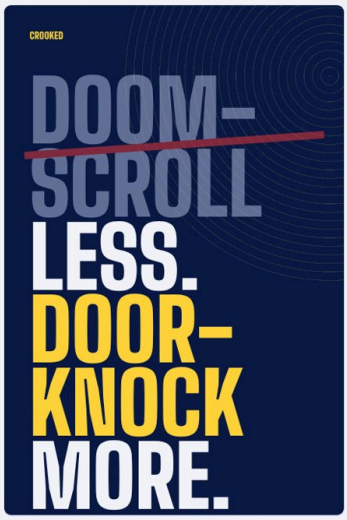

PIECE	LANE	GROUND	DEVICE
Check, please.	Gold-plated White House	Yellow	Restaurant menu: Gold-leaf ballroom (donor's choice), Tariff surcharge (on everything), Rose Garden patio (paved fresh), Affordability (86'd)
Gas is $4.20. Not a joke.	Cost of everything	Navy	None; the number is the art

PIECE	LANE	GROUND	DEVICE
Read the receipt.	Cost of everything	Paper	Receipt: gas, groceries, rent, tariff surcharge, paid by you
Less Cheesecake Factory. More factories.	Gold-plated White House	Navy	None
Donors got a ballroom. You got the bill.	Gold-plated White House	Red	Display only
Drain the swamp? They put in a hot tub.	Grift	Chrome	None
Midterms Tuesday. Make it a short term.	Turnout	Yellow	None
The price is wrong.	Cost of everything	Navy poster	Price tag: "Coming down" struck in red, "Still up" in red 700
Huge portions. Tiny priorities.	Gold-plated White House	Navy	None
Don't let the midterms be mid.	Turnout	Yellow	None
The menu's 20 pages. None say child care.	Gold-plated White House	Paper	Short menu, child care "not on the menu"
Billionaires don't clip coupons.	Working people	Red	Display only
The art of the steal.	Grift	Chrome	Footer names the donor-funded ballroom

- The menu and receipt devices are white boxes with a 6px `c-navy-900` rule and 20px radius; line items in Plex Mono caps, prices in `c-red-700`; the 86'd item is struck with a `c-red-500` bar.
- The gas figure is the AAA national average for Oct 30, 2026. Update it or swap the line if the average moves.
- Dated set: retire after Nov 3.

POSTER

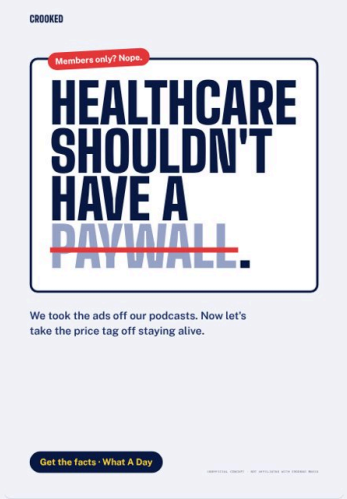

NAVY · STRIKE-AND-SWAP

YELLOW · BORROWED FORMAT

SKY · SCENE

PAPER · BOXED CLAIM

Print and story-format poster, 1200×1800 (2:3), shown here at 25%.

Provide: a two-beat headline (six words or fewer per beat), one sentence of body that names a specific action, one pill CTA naming the program, and the unofficial mark.

Anatomy, top to bottom: wordmark stand-in (`wm`, 34px) → headline (`display-poster`, 196–300px, leading .86) → optional device (checklist, lock box, scene) → `sub` (40px Public Sans 600, max 20em) → footer row with pill CTA left and unofficial mark right, padding 90px.

Four grounds, one per piece:

GROUND	HEADLINE	USE
Navy `c-navy-900`	paper text, yellow for the turn	The default. Halo pattern top-right.

GROUND	HEADLINE	USE
Yellow `c-yellow-500`	navy	Upbeat asks; ink pill or none.
Sky gradient	cream, then butter	Climate and outdoors only; the one non-Con use of sky, kept to the upper half, with navy ground at the foot for body copy.
Paper `c-slate-50`	navy in a white lock box	Policy claims; red tag for the hook.

- The strike-and-swap device (struck word in `c-slate-300` at 55% with a rotated `c-red-500` bar, then the replacement in yellow) is the system's signature move. One per piece.
- Yellow is the turn of the sentence, not decoration. Highlight one beat.
- Grounds are fixed brand colors; posters don't follow the viewer's theme.

COMPONENTS · COLLATERAL

POSTERROUND2

Round 2 posters: each one dresses the ask as a familiar format, so the format carries the joke and the copy carries the action.

Provide: the format (diagram, record sleeve, tracklist, calendar, certificate, forecast, sequel poster, park sign, scoreboard), a headline in two beats, one line of body that names the action, and a pill CTA naming the program.

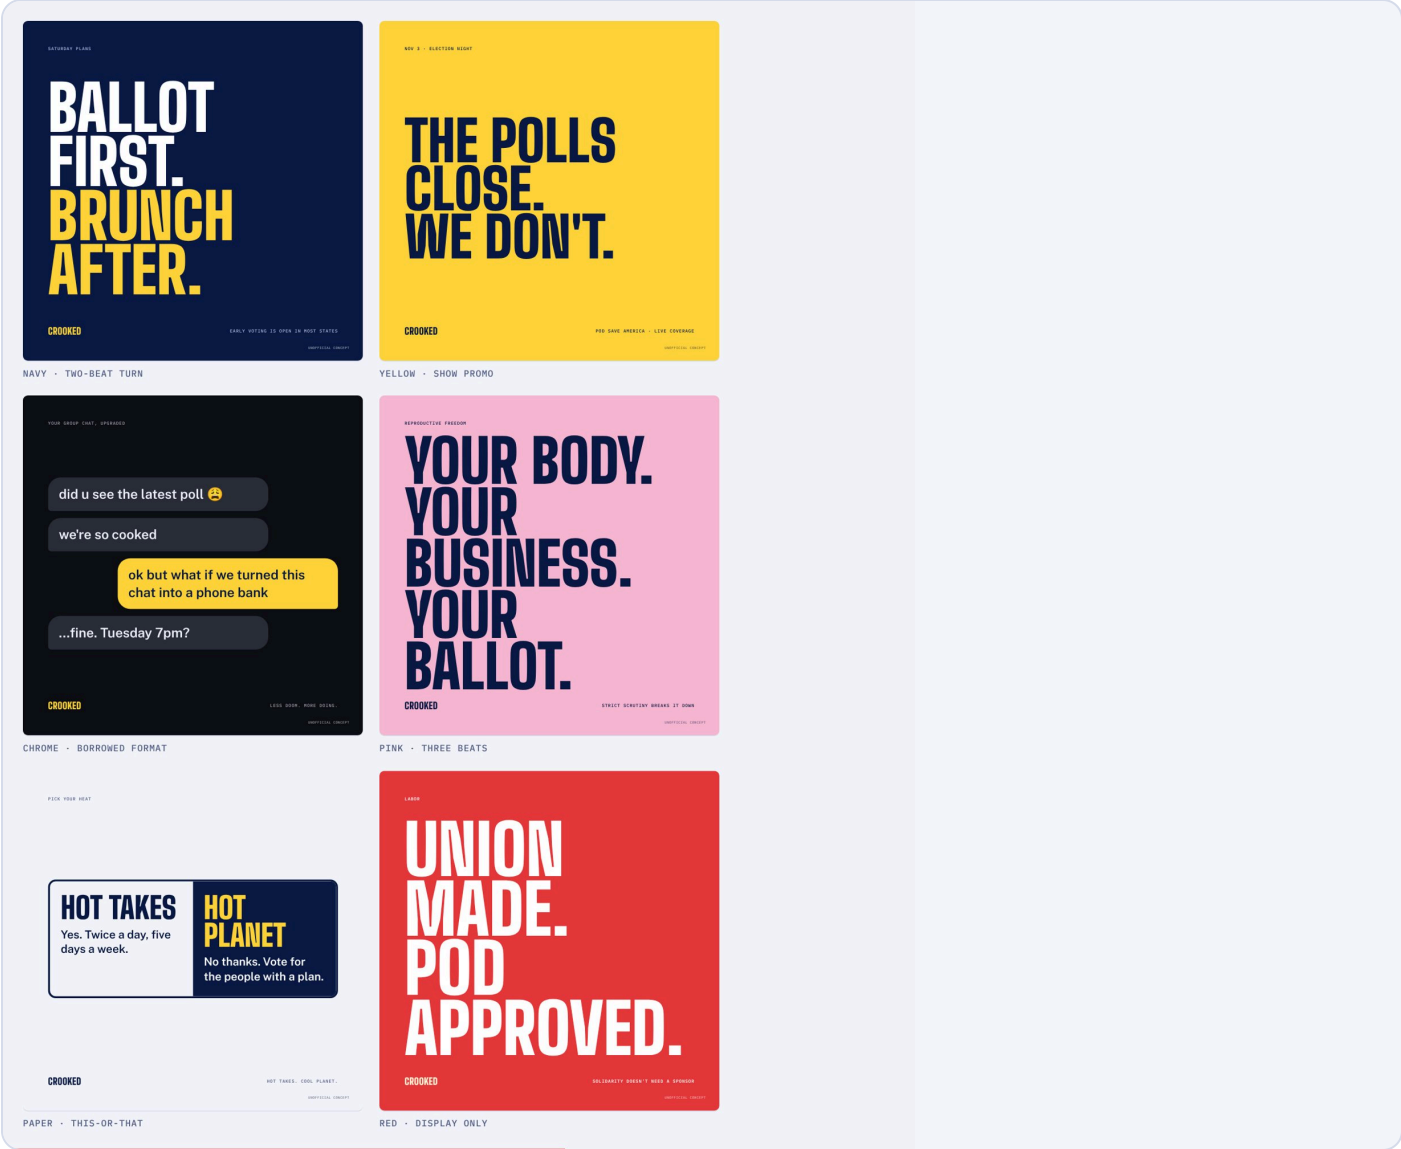

POSTER	BORROWED FORMAT	GROUND
Doom is not a strategy	Game-plan diagram (Plan A: Doom, struck)	Navy

Reusable bag. Renewable democracy.	8:1 web banner	Paper

- Source images: asset group Round 2 Posters, rendered from the Round 2 PDF.
- Cream and forest green are format colors for the certificate and park sign only, not tokens.
- Every poster keeps the unofficial mark in the footer.

Feed post, 1080×1080, shown here at 38%.

- Padding 80px; layout is eyebrow / headline / footer with `space-between`.
- Headline `display-poster` at 178–220px. Fit by size, never by squeezing tracking.
- Grounds: navy (default), yellow, chrome (for chat and app formats), pink (reproductive freedom), paper (comparisons), red (labor and display-only pieces; white or cream type at display size only, since white on red is 4.2:1).
- Footer mono line credits the show that covers the topic (Pod Save America, Strict Scrutiny, What A Day) or restates the system line.
- In chat-format posts, the friend's yellow bubble carries the turn toward action; lowercase and emoji belong to the quoted voices only.

- 10px white kiss-cut border on every shape.
- Bursts carry the loudest lines ("Down, not out", "Less doom. More doing.").
- Slogans come from the house lines in the voice section; no new jokes on stickers without a second read.

TEEGRAPHIC

ORGANIZER TEE · CENTER CHEST

Print-ready garment art on a 1400×1400 artboard, shown at 30%.

Provide: a seal line in mono (the joke), the display lockup (the claim), and a mono credit line ("Crooked · Department of …").

- The seal: a dashed `c-yellow-500` ring (r 430, 2/22 dash, 60%) around a solid `c-navy-400` ring (r 360).
- Display at 150px in yellow; mono lines 22px, tracking .1em.
- Two-color screen print where possible (yellow + white on navy). Garment color carries the ground.

FOUR FAKE CONTRACTORS

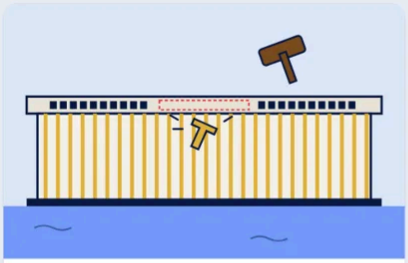

Deadpan workwear named for four Washington landmark projects. Each shirt is shown beside the place it points at: the East Wing, the Kennedy Center facade, the Reflecting Pool, and the arch with the regilded bridge horses. The joke is only the company name.

BRAND	LANDMARK	TAGLINE	BLANK AND INK
Big Balls Demolition & Remodel	The East Wing	Tear it down. Build it better.	Safety orange · black
Hard Letters Signage Co.	The Kennedy Center	Banners · Signs · Wraps	Hi-vis yellow · black
Lincoln Blue Pool & Paint	The Reflecting Pool	Keep it blue.	Heather navy · white + light blue
Triumphal Erection Co.	The arch + the gold horses	Raise the standard.	Black · metallic gold

WORKWEAR EDITION

Rules for the series

- Play it straight: left-chest logo, clean back print, one or two inks, a sincere trade tagline.
- Show every shirt beside its landmark, drawn flat. No photos.
- Aim at the projects, never at a named person. No names, faces or likenesses.
- Every factual premise is true and dated in the caption.
- Print: Triumphal gold is metallic ink; check workwear blank shades with the vendor.

NOVELTY EDITION

The louder cartoon version: mascots, ribbon banners and innuendo service lines. A limited drop, not the line.
